Brief report:

To promote the culture of innovation in research and start-ups and the board of research studies (BORS) organized a CDE programme on this occasion.

The speaker was Dr Mukta Motwani (Vice Dean and Co-Chairman BORS, RDDCRC, Nagpur).

Dr Saeed Deshpande (Member BORS, RDDCRC, Nagpur) welcomed and introduced the speaker to the audience.

Dr Motwani explained that synopsis writing for dental students is an important academic skill that lays the groundwork for a well-structured and meaningful research project. She explained how a synopsis provides a concise overview of the proposed study, outlining the research problem, objectives, rationale, and relevance to current dental science including a brief review of existing literature, a clear statement of the hypothesis or research question, and a description of the methodology—such as study design, sampling methods, data collection tools, and planned statistical analyses. She emphasized that a well-prepared synopsis also addresses ethical considerations, expected outcomes, and the potential impact of the research on clinical practice or public health.

Dr Abhay Kolte (Dean and Chairman of BORS, RDDCRC, Nagpur) felicitated the speaker.

The programme was attended by faculty members and students, and it was well received by the audience.
